Description

Photocopies at the Henry Moore Foundation library of drawings, letters and statements produced by children of seven, eight and nine years of age. The drawings were produced on a visit to the exhibition at Aldeburgh Cinema Gallery June 1994 (See 0016087), the thoughts about the work were written back at school.Boat Form, 1983 bronze was the subject of several drawings and statements, including Holly Rosenthal's At the bottom of the boat it was dark. It changed colour. Some bits were dark. Some bits were light. It didn't look like a real boat. But it has lines to show the edge of the boat. I liked it because it seemed easy to draw. But I had to look carefully to see where the dark bits were and where the light bits are".
