Description

Article discussing the importance of Yorkshire as a go-to destination to see Sculpture in Britain and the "Sculpture triangle" of Leeds, Wakefield and Yorkshire Sculpture Park. Compares Henry Moore and Barbara Hepworth, their shared experiences of growing up in Yorkshire mining towns and how the landscapes, both rural and industrial, inspired their work. Includes images of Large Two Forms, 1969 bronze (LH 556) and Three Piece Reclining Figure No.1 1961-2 bronze (LH 500)
